KHS Counselor Earns State Recognition Michelle Feucht named WACAC High School Counseling Professional of the Year

July 18, 2016 — Kaukauna High School Counselor Michelle Feucht has been recognized as the 2016 High School Counseling Professional of the year by the Wisconsin Association for College Admission Counseling (WACAC).

The High School Counseling Professional of the Year award honors high school employees that exemplify excellence and dedication to serving the needs of students in the transition from high school to college.

Feucht played a key role in Kaukauna High School's senior week, a time in May dedicated to celebrating our graduating students. This year, as part of senior week, Feucht led the Champions in the Classroom initiative, highlighting the achievements of our students during their time in the classroom at KHS, as well as the district's inaugural Cap and Gown Tour, where seniors, donned in their caps and gowns and toured the hallways of the elementary and middle schools, allowing them to visualize how far they'd come in their educational journeys, and to inspire those soon to follow in their footsteps.

"Michelle is very deserving of this award," said Director of Secondary Education Matthew Smith. "Her hard work and passion for our students is witnessed on a daily basis at Kaukauna High School. We're all lucky to have her as a part of the KHS team."

About WACAC

Wisconsin Association for College Admission Counseling (WACAC) is the state-level affiliate group of the National Association for College Admissions Counseling (NACAC). NACAC is the only professional association of members from secondary schools, community-based organizations, colleges and universities in the United States. One of our biggest goals is to help high school and community college students in Wisconsin prepare for collegiate study. Our network of admission professionals, guidance counselors, academic support staff, and members of educational organizations work together to share best practices and maintain high standards in the profession of counseling students.
